Universalist Congregati March 2013 Published by the UU Congregation of Frederick, MD (www.frederickuu.org)

A Welcoming Congregation

Sustaining The Light!

Pledge cards will be arriving the last week of February. Our goal is $300,000 in pledges this year. Our building is in its 10th year and is in need of some repairs and maintenance, in addition to the normal operating expenses, including a paint job and a new air conditioning unit.

We are requesting all members to give as generously as they are able. Together we are making a real difference.

ADULT SPIRITUAL ENRICHMENT

is delighted to bring back to the Frederick. MD region the Abbot Bhante Sujatha.

Bhante is entertaining, accessible and uplifting.

Practicing Peace, with Bhante Sujatha, Saturday, March 2, 2013, 2:00 - 5:00 PM

Bhante is offering an opportunity for Q and A as well as meditation instruction and practice. This is a good opportunity to explore how we can take the practice of peace out into our daily lives. This will be the fourth workshop that Bhante has offered at UUCF.

Buddhist teachers rely on "dana" for their work. Donations to Bhante's work will be gratefully accepted.

Thank you to the approximately thirty members and friends of UUCF who were able to return on Sunday evening, February 10 for a discussion of Michelle Alexander's book The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindness. I also heard from many of you that wanted to attend, but were unable to for various reasons. In the future, I will strongly consider having such events immediately after the morning service, especially when the sermon is on a related theme. But in this case scheduling the evening session allowed three members of the local NAACP to attend.

I have sent a follow-up email to the President of the local chapter of the NAACP to continue to explore how we can partner together in the struggle against The New Jim Crow. I am also in the process of reading The Arc of the Universe Is Long: Unitarian Universalists, Anti-Racism, and the Journey from Calgary, which recounts the recent history of the Unitarian Universalist Association's efforts to become a more anti-racist, anti-oppressive, multicultural movement. The book covers 14 years from the passage of the racial and cultural diversity resolution at the General Assembly in Calgary, Canada in 1992 to General Assembly 2006. I hope to learn from the success and failures of the past to inform our work at UUCF. Both of these are small steps on a long, but vital, journey toward wholeness.

Relatedly, the theme of the 2013 District Assembly of the JPD (Joseph Priestley District of the Unitarian Universalist Association, of which UUCF is a part) is "Expanding ule in the summer as has been our Our Ministries, Building Our Future: Growing the Multicultural, Multigenerational Congregation." I plan to attend, and invite you to consider attending as well if you can. There will be many valuable workshops and opportunities to learn from the best practices of other UU congregations. The conference will be in Wilmington, DE, Friday-Saturday, April 12-13. If you do plan to attend, please let me know. More information is available at http://www.jpduua.org/news-andnotes/register-2013-jpd-assembly.

I would also invite you to consider joining me at this year's annual Uni- Carl tarian Universalist Association

General Assembly in Louisville, KY, June 19-23 (see http:// www.uua.org/ga/). The 2013 Public Witness event at General Assembly will focus on Environmental Justice. Wendell Berry will participate. If cost is a prohibitive factor, please consider the cost-saving ideas on this website: http://tipsheet.blogs.uua.org/ resources/ga-deadlines-near-forfinancial-aid-certification/.

Finally, my current inclination after talking with many different individuals and groups at UUCF over the past few months is to not switch to an earlier Sunday morning schedcustom. Families with young children, commuters who do not live close to UUCF, and people heavily invested in our diverse 10:00 a.m. programming most strongly favor staying at an 11:00 a.m. worship schedule year round. I welcome further insights or suggestions on this matter, but if you do have a strong objection, please let me know ASAP.

Thank you all for your ongoing support of all our missions and ministries at UUCF.

Peace to you,

PRESIDENT'S FORNER

FISCAL NOTES, LATE FEBRUARY, 2013

Including projected Fiscal Year 2013—2014 Budget

For the month of January, income was again higher than expenses both for the month and for ending the calendar year of 2012. Here's a summary of how our General Fund stood as of January 31, 2013:

January		Yr To Date	% of Annual Budget
Income:	$ 21,398	$233,779	62
Expenses:	$ 20,681	$190,442	52
Difference:	$ 717	$ 43,337

Our pledge drive is moving into full speed. The goal set by the Stewardship Committee for this year's pledge drive was guided in part by a "straw budget" created by the Finance Committee earlier this year. All Committee chairs and staff with a budget line were asked to submit for the Fiscal Year (FY) 2013-14 budget, along with justifications of how they would use the funds. These were then added into a projected "ideal" or "straw" budget. Here's a summary of the projected expenses, compared to those in this year's budget:

Expense Category	Current (FY '13)	Projected (FY'14)
TOTAL FUNDRAISING EXPENSE	$11,400	$11,300
TOTAL EMPLOYEE / STAFF EXPENSE	$176,650	$179,906
TOTAL FACILITIES EXPENSE	$140,747	$196,200
TOTAL PROGRAM EXPENSE ( RE,Fellowship , Worship, Committees, etc )	$29,770	$33,487
TOTAL ADMIN & OFFICE EXPENSE	$12,625	$18,625
Total Expenses	$371,192	$439,518

As you can see, the projected budget is significantly higher than current expenses. There are some increases in our staff expenses, such as bookkeeping help and increased child care, which are necessary to support the programs of our growing congregation (but we save compared to this year because there are no ministerial moving expenses). The large increase in facilities expenses includes painting the building, more help with mowing and grounds-keeping, and other necessary capital repairs and improvements. And our office overhead expenses are already rising.

Of course, the actual budget for next year will be determined by the actual income projected for our current pledge drive. If we fall short of our goal, it will be necessary to prioritize projected increases and make some perhaps painful cuts. It all depends upon you, the congregation, and meeting our pledge goal will depend upon both increased pledge amounts by current members as well as increasing numbers of pledges in our growing congregation.

Thank you all for your continuing support of UUCF which allows us to carry out our programs, pay the bills, and continue all our good works!

---Sandi Smith-Gill, treasurer@frederickuu.org

Exploring Vegetarianism

[The following is the first of three solicited articles on Vegetarianism, written by Kathy Myers. The monthly series will address health, environment and ethics.

This first article deals with ethics and speaks to our tendency to feel entitled because of "god-given" rights which have become habitual to our thinking. In truth, we may personally eschew some justifications for human behavior but embrace others. What makes the difference?

Food for Thought

Genesis 1:26 says, "Then God said, "Let us make man in our image, in our likeness, and let them rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air. over the livestock, over all the earth, and over all the creatures that move along the ground." This is the historic justification for mankind's assumption that we have the right to do as we wish with the earth, and with all the other living beings that share it with us. Many other major religions take a very different approach, such as Hinduism, Jainism, or Buddhism, which encourage sharing the earth with animals as other living beings worthy of respect. The monotheistic religions of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam accept eating animals, which they justify by saving, "God said we can." The Bible is full of stories of the children of Abraham historically justifying invading their neighbors, taking the women as concubines [sex slaves], the children as slaves, and killing the men, tribe after tribe, by saying "and god said..." (We look at that conduct today and see all kinds of human rights abuses.)

Another interesting religious historical assumption is that of the "Doctrine of Discovery." In a papal bull issued in 1452, Pope Nicholas directed King Alfonso to "capture, vanquish, and subdue the saracens, pagans, and other enemies of Christ," to "put them into perpetual slavery," and "to take all their possessions and property." This was the legal justification used by Columbus to seize the East Indies, and is the basis of the United States [current] policy toward the Native American Indian nations. "In 1823, the Christian Doctrine of Discovery was quietly adopted into U.S. law by the Supreme Court in the celebrated case, Johnson v. McIntosh (8 Wheat., 543). Writing for a unanimous court, Chief Justice John Marshall observed that Christian European nations had assumed "ultimate dominion" over the lands of America during the Age of Discovery, and that-upon "discovery"—the Indians had lost "their rights to complete sovereignty, as independent nations," and only retained a right of "occupancy" in their lands.

In other words, Indians nations were subject to the ultimate authority of the first nation of Christendom to claim possession of a given region of Indian lands.

Why do we eat meat? Mostly because we were raised by our parents to. It is a habit. We assume it OK because it is "an inconvenient truth" to think animals have the same right to life that we do.

Kathy Myers

SEAFOOD WATCH

Did you know your seafood choices matter?

Around the world, the demand for seafood is growing. Due to advances in technology, many kinds of fish we enjoy eating are now severely overfished. In the U.S. we import over 80% of our seafood. Destructive fishing and fish farming practices, as shown in the documentary, "End of the Line," add to the problem.

By purchasing fish caught or farmed using environmentally friendly practices, you can help support healthy, abundant oceans.

Best choices include seafood free of concerns about contaminants such as mercury. Some of these are: Salmon (Alaska wild) and tilapia (U.S. farmed).

Seafood to avoid include shrimp (imported) and tuna (all canned.)

Social and Environmental Justice

Welcome to news from the Social and Environmental Justice Committee (SEJC)!

JUSTice + ACTion = JustAct

SOCIAL JUSTICE INITIATIVE SUR-VEY COMPLETED — NOW WHAT?

Sixty members/friends of UUCF completed a Social Justice Initiative that asked you to choose a topic most everyone will feel enthusiastic about working on. Many thanks to everyone who gave us their opinion, either by Survey Monkey or hard copy. How do we act on those results? Five of us met to review survey results and develop a plan.

- Much discussion led us to two broad topics: (1) Climate Change & Environmental Action and (2) Strengthening & Supporting Fam-
- At their March 19th meeting, the SEJC will choose one of the above two topics.
- · Brian McCann and Dick Roblin will form a team to flesh out the topic of choice and develop a process for presenting it to the UUCF congregation.

At that point, we will move on to Step #2 of the Initiative. As FYI, here are the steps in the process the Board of Trustees approved last spring:

Social & Environmental Justice Committee (SEJC) select an issue related to our UU principles.

Congregational discussion and evaluation of issue during 6-month period.

UUCF members submit individual written proposals to address chosen issue; several proposals can be combined into a final proposal.

Members of congregation vote on final proposal at special congregational meeting.

Issue accepted if it receives positive vote All voting members are expected to par-by 75% of members at meeting. ticipate in implementing issue unless they notify Secretary of Board of Trustees of their opposition.

BOOK DRIVE

Donate to B.I.G. (Books for International Goodwill)

Do you love books? Most of us do and chances are you need to clean your shelves so you can buy more. Add your lovingly used books to the box in the atrium by March 17. Especially needed: College, high school and elementary textbooks, and general reading for libraries. They will be donated to Books for International Goodwill (B.I.G.; http://www.big-books.org), which has sent 5.6 million books to schools and libraries in developing communities that submit a request. Those not suitable to send will be sold at the next BIG book sale.

Begun by the Parole Rotary Club of Annapolis and now an independent non-profit entity, its motto is "Spreading Literacy by Keeping Books Alive."

VOLUNTEER FOUND FOR DELIVERY TO FOOD BANK

Drum roll and round of applause, please. Joanne Spivey has volunteered to deliver UUCF donations to the Food Bank until next December. Many thanks, Joanne!

Special thanks to John and Meg who delivered UUCF contributions for the past six months.

JUSTICE FOR RESTAURANT WORKERS

Our Service Committee (UUSC) http:// www.uusc.org works closely with Restaurant Opportunities Centers United (ROC-United). Codirector and cofounder Saru Jayaraman has written Behind the Kitchen Door: What Every Diner Should Know About the People Who Feed Us. The publication of this book provides a unique opportunity for UUs to discuss restaurant worker conditions. Book groups in UU congregations around the country are encouraged to read and discuss Behind the Kitchen Door. The long-term plan is to pass federal legislation that increases the minimum wage for tipped workers, who are often paid as little as $2.13 per hour, a wage

Update from Able and Willing

Two pieces of Able and Willing news may be of interest to you – about Puma's motorcycle accident and about an upcoming recycling & document shredding fundraiser.

We have been looking forward to Puma's return from Congo later this month, but have unfortunate news that has impacted that schedule. On February 7, Puma was injured in a motorcycle accident and remains hospitalized. He sustained a concussion and broken shoulder blade. Communication to D.R. Congo has been very difficult but we are now in touch with Puma and his son Kabulo in Congo. We understand that the effects of the concussion are improving daily, and he is receiving excellent care. I talked with him today and he said he had an operation yesterday to repair his shoulder blade with pins and wire. Details remain unclear, although it seems certain he will not be well enough to return to the US until April. We will be updating you as we receive more information, but ask you that you keep him in your thoughts and prayers.

In other news, if you are in the Frederick, Maryland area, please mark your calendars for March 30, from 9 am until noon - our next fundraiser will be an electronics recycling and document shredding event at the Jefferson Ruritan Center. So save your confidential documents and unwanted electronic items for this fundraiser with a novel twist to enable students in our Congo schools to build specially designed computers at low cost.

We will soon send a progress report on our work in Mali and Congo and more information about upcoming events.

Thanks, as always, for your continued support.

Jim Carpenter and board members of AWIEF http://AbleAndWilling.org, 301-514-1356

The UU - United Nations Office offers you the opportunity to put your Unitarian Universalist principles into practice. One way you can get involved is to participate in the Intergenerational Spring Seminar.

Every April, youth and adults from around the U.S. and Canada gather in New York City for an exciting and educational three-day seminar. They learn about international issues in depth and develop plans for action.

PROJECT BONA FIDE

IS SPLIT-PLATE RECIPIENT FOR MARCH 17

UUCF knows Fredericktonian Michael Judd from his presentation last March in which he introduced us to what he calls edible landscaping (ecologiadesign.com) with a permaculture twist. Michael also spends part of the year in Nicaragua, where he founded and is co-director of Project Bona Fide, a non-profit that supports rural farming communities as they work toward selfempowerment and economic stability. Farmers are given financial and technical support toward gaining organic certification, establishing fair trade market opportunities, preserving natural environments, and working with local health and nutrition projects. This work is carried out at Finca Bona Fide, a 43acre educational farm developed as a research/ training center for regenerative agriculture and land management. We hope to have Michael for another presentation soon. In the meantime, please give generously to help his work with Project Bona Fide.

The seminar this year will be "SEX, LOVE, and VIO-LENCE: Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity in a Globalized World." Youth will arrive the evening of April 3rd, and the seminar will take place April 4th - 6th. UU - UNO Envoys Monica Greene and Ben Gaffigan welcome other members of our congregation to join them at this powerful intergenerational gathering.

Registration is open until March 15. Please see www.uua.org/unspringseminar.

In peace,

PROPOSAL

Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Frederick Statement on Gun Violence
frederickuu.org
DRAFT 2/7/2013 at 8:00 p.m.

PROPOSAL

Thousands of Americans die each year through gun violence, including murder, suicide, or accidents, through mass killings and in individual incidents. Many of these deaths are of children. The time has come to address this carnage that continues every day in our country.

Our Unitarian Universalist Principles call us to "compassion in human relations" and one Source from which Unitarian Universalism draws is the "Words and deeds of prophetic women and men which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion, and the transforming power of love." To live out these values, we, the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Frederick, support reasonable limits on gun ownership and use that will serve to reduce the number of gunrelated deaths in the United States. Reasonable limitations include, but are not limited to, the following:

Require universal background checks for all gun purchases,

Strengthen the laws respecting "straw purchases" of guns.

Ban military-style assault weapons and high-capacity ammunition magazines,

Support micro-stamping technology to make comprehensive ballistic identification a reality,

Make gun trafficking a federal crime,

Improve access to mental health services, and

Increase funding for research related to ending gun violence.

Our Unitarian Universalist Principles also recognize "The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large," and we recognize that reasonable people may disagree with this statement and seek alternative methods of reducing gun violence.

Deadlines near for GA financial aid, certification

This is the year to attend the Unitarian Universalist Association General Assembly and become part of the larger UU community. GA will be held June 19- 23 in Louisville, KY.

The number of members a congregation certifies by February 1 is used to calculate number of voting delegates we will have. UUCF certified 187 members. Note: Our present number of members (i.e., those who have signed the membership book) is 202.

If you would like to attend and need some help with costs, the following deadlines apply:

March 31: The deadline for the GA Planning Committee's Matching Grant Program and the Youth and Young Adult Scholarship Program. The GAPC will pay registration costs plus up to $250 (if matched by a congregation) to send a delegate to GA. Priority is given to congregational leaders, delegates from new congregations, and congregations that have not recently sent delegates. Grants for youth and young adults will pay registration plus up to $500. Applications will be available March 1.

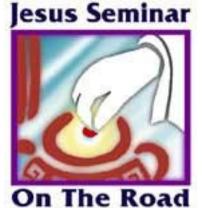

March 31: Applications to be volunteers at GA are due. Adult volunteers are required to work 24 hours over GA. Youth and those who qualify for reduced registration rates are required to work 14 hours. Online applications will be available March 1.

April 30: Applications are due to the UUA's Stewardship and Development group for scholarships from the Davidoff Fund, which subsidizes the attendance at GA of lay leaders who have not been to GA in the past three years.

The Guide for the Frugal Attendee provides other ways to attend GA as inexpensively as possible.

Notes & News

The UUCF book club will meet on Friday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Kathleen and Zakir Bengali. The book we will be discussing is Wolf Hall by Hilary Mantel. This is book one of her Thomas Cromwell Trilogy. We are looking for some new members to join us. We always have a lively discussion and the host indulges us with delicious refreshments. If you would like to join us but aren't sure how to get to the Bengali home you can contact them for directions by calling 301-874-2519 or e-mailing them at Kathleen bengali@comcast.net.

Not only does RUUMEO offer an opportunity for Retired UU Men to Eat Out, but they can do so without having to join anything, pay dues, wear funny hats, or learn a secret handshake. Just meet for breakfast (c.8 a.m.) at Mimi's Cafe, 5120 Buckeystown Pike, on the first and third Wednesdays of the month. So put RUUMEO down on your calendar for March 6 and 20.

As an incentive, the friendly gift card sellers in the atrium after Sunday services have Mimi's cards, part of the purchase price going to UUCF! Chronologically Gifted will NOT meet this month due to the Congregation's Annual Dinner planned for that night. We'll meet on the second Saturday of April. That will be April 13. We'll see you at the dinner on March 9. Call Marj Mansfield for more info at 301-693-6195 or call 301-473-8246 for more information.

Thank you all for your generous nonperishable, food donations! Friday I delivered 8 large bags of food to the Thurmont food bank. I'm sure the community welcomes our hearty generosity. The Thurmont food bank is located at St. Johns, 15 N. Church St in Thurmont. It is open Tuesdays, 6-7:30 and Fridays, 3:30-5 p.m. Thanks again for your year-round donations! -- Joanne Spivey

Worth watching: PBS special Makers:

Women Who Make America . Originally aired 2/26, but it is well worth checking to see about repeats and on demand viewing. All the major protagonists and antagonists surrounding the continuing struggle for equal rights in America are seen and heard from. Revealing film footage is screened.

Need a Helping Hand?

Within our church community many of us lend a hand when we see a need. The care that is given may only be known by the giver and the receiver and that is what our church community is all about, but within the church there is also an established group, The Pastoral Care Team, that is ready to help. The Pastoral Care Team, part of the lay church ministry, provides a caring presence and confidential support for members and friends who are facing illness, a birth, surgery, or a crisis. When possible, help is provided in the form of hospital, home, and/or phone visits, transportation to doctors' offices and coordination of meals through the Food for Friends program. The Pastoral Care Team is not able to provide medical, nursing, or therapy services; however, appropriate referrals to agencies are offered as needed.

Help may be requested by contacting a member of the Pastoral Care Team. To request a meal(s), contact coordinator Dorothea Mordan.

Contact information for the current members is listed below.
